

Amaze your guests with a new kind of menu...

It has to be the ultimate home entertainment luxury: an audio/video system that allows you to play your favourite music, DVD or TV channel anywhere in the home.

Living Control has refined the art of multi-room entertainment to a new level, where your entire music collection is available in any room at the touch of a discreet, décor-matching wall panel; where you make selections of audio and HD video by name, and control lights from the same panel; where downloading your play list to your iPod® is a simple joy.

Embracing WiFi® and iPod integration, lighting and home cinema control, Living Control's system will grow with your needs, but will always remain virtually invisible, keeping your interior design as perfect as the day you decorated.
